Miss Zinderstein kept pressing the attack, being willing frequently to make arrors in order to keep her siyle of play consistent. Throughout the next three games she kept Miss Bjurstedt chasing from one eide of the court to the other until the Norse girl showed signs of exhaustion. The gameness of the champion might be attested to by the fact that she won three games in a row, taking the opening set.

That, however, was the last stand for the great Norwegian player. Before

In the beginning of the second set Miss Zinderstein, taking the second set Miss Zinderstein, taking advantage of her superior condition, carried the attack to her opponent, and won the first two games. Miss Bjurstedt, however, was still fighting; I fact, she was dying hard. She took the next game, and in spite of the fact that the Boston girl carried off the next four ames and the set the Norwegian wa fighting hard right up to the last.
At the finish of the second set it was evident that Miss Bjurstedt would lost the match. Miss Zinderstein kept goin strong in the early games of the set, and soon was in the lead at Miss Bjurstedt then made her stand and took a love game. In this game she showed many flashes of he old form, but she could not hold the pace, and Miss Zinderstein took three games in a row, which gave her the se

RAIN STOPS PLAY Downpour Breaks Before Start Is Made at Flatbush.

One of the prettiest little downpours that has greeted tennis players since the start of the rainy season prevented play in the Brooklyn championship tennis tournament yesterday on the courts of the Terrace Club in Flatbush. Al-though thick, dark clouds had been hanging over the courts from the early afternoon, many of the competitors in the tournament were on hand to start saip along about 3 o'clock in the afternoon. Even at that time the clouds were in evidence and so the two boys decided that any part of the match which should be finished would stand in the final. The only set played resulted in a victory for Donaldson at 6—4. The remainder of the match will be played to-day.

6 and 5.

The second round led Walker into a grapple with W. H. Gardner, Buffalo Country Club, which gave promise of the most interesting clash of the day's programme. With recently gathered laurels as runmerup in the Lynnewood cup tournament at Philadelphia, it was expected that Gardner would prove a rather tough hurdle for the Staten Island star.

However, Gardner hardly succeeded in making the going even stiff for his opponent. Walker took a lead on the very first hole, and Gardner had the tough job of coming from behind from then on until Walker ended the struggle

Four Channel Bass Taken at Corson's.

Chanel bass are biting at Corson's Inlet. The first one was taken on Tuesday by Jack Whatton of Newark and weighed all pounds. This was followed by one hooked by Bob Mossner weighing 35 pounds. Fred Adams got a channel bass strike, played the fish for fifteen minutes, then lost it.

On Thursday morning Mrs. A. K. Higgins of Philadelphia landed a channel bass of 25% pounds and Mr. Higgins caught one during the affernoon weighing 37% pounds. The latter was an unusual event because both fish were the first landed by either of them. These fish were taken off the beach.

After carefully perusing "Tamarack's" article in reply to mine I wish to say I heartily endorse his contention with one or two exceptions.

Largest and beet equipped. Leaves Sheepshead Bay at $ A. M.

At this meason, however, trout are found principally in the rapids, riffles and swift, shallow water.

We had been given to understand since youth that there were two sets of rapids above the aider beds, but we never felt equal to the task of breaking through the siash which has been left from lumbering operations and reaching the swift waters above.

We started this time at daybreak and at 11.45 A. M. were at the foot of a rather imposing waterfail, perhaps a mile
